

Your Lab Work, On Your Schedule

Convenient mobile and in-office blood draws and specimen collection throughout the Portland metro area, including Vancouver, WA, and Salem, OR.

1 Have Your Lab Order Ready

Your healthcare provider must supply a valid laboratory requisition for services that require one. You can upload your requisition during online booking, or your provider can fax it directly to us.

2 Schedule Your Collection

Visit stumptownlabservices.com/book or scan the QR code.

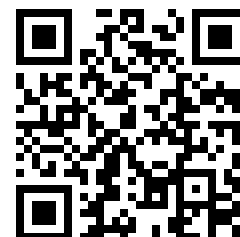

Choose your collection service, enter your collection address if requesting mobile service, select an available appointment, and review your total before payment.

3 We Handle the Collection

A trained collection professional performs your scheduled collection. Specimens are prepared and delivered or shipped to the designated laboratory according to the service and laboratory requirements.

Before Your Appointment

- Follow fasting or preparation instructions provided by your ordering clinician or laboratory. Fasting is required only when directed.
- Have your laboratory requisition or specialty test kit ready, when applicable.
- Stumptown charges for specimen collection and related services. Laboratory testing fees are separate and determined by the performing laboratory.
- Diagnostic results are provided by the performing laboratory to the ordering provider, not by Stumptown.
